

Computer Studies

Computer studies is not an exam subject, however technological development is recognised and the need to develop this skill is promoted with all students receiving computer classes when possible. The school has 2 fully equipped computer rooms catering for all class sizes. Students are in a controlled and safe environment while accessing programmes during computer classes.